State Buys Five Lots

SJSC to Begin Construction Of Two Buildings Next Fall

Purchase of five residential lots slated for inclusion in San Jose State college's expanded "campus of the future" was announced Tuesday by college President T. W. MacQuarrie.

According to the president, the college is now within five lots of having enough property for the projected Engineering and Music buildings. Condemnation proceedings have been started on these five, he added.

The lots included in the recent purchase, located at 240 and 244 S. Seventh street and 240, 244 and 267 S. Eighth street, were acquired for the college by agents of the State division of highways.

Dr. MacQuarrie predicted construction of the two buildings would probably begin next fall. After all property has been purchased, architects' plans must be completed and bids for demolition and construction let, the president explained.

Nineteen additional lots must be purchased to complete the expanded campus—plans of which were released by college officials last July. All are now occupied by residences or apartments, Dr. MacQuarrie said. They have all been appraised by state agents.

The president told the Spartan Daily he would not hazard a guess on a completion date for the project—but added purchase operations by the state have been moving faster in recent months.

SJSC to Raise Registration Fee Next Fall

New $3 Increase To Benefit Men's PE Department

Starting next year, full time students at San Jose State college will pay a registration fee of $11.50 at the beginning of each quarter, the business office disclosed yesterday.

The $3 increase from the current $8.50 will be for the use and maintenance of men's physical education equipment, to be furnished by the college. This equipment will consist of men's clothing.

E. S. Thompson, comptroller, said that this innovation by the board in Sacramento is a reversal of present policy and is done in California schools. Thompson

Patrons Group To Hear Dr. Barry

Dr. Raymond W. Barry, English department head, will speak on the work of the English department during the regular meeting of the Patrons association at 2 p.m. today in L210.

A male chorus composed of music students will provide entertainment following the business meeting. The ensemble includes: Walter G. Cothary and Churchill Jackson, first tenors; Mark W. Hildebrand, Donald D. Schaaf, and Neil A. Stuart, second tenors; James L. McGaugh, Robert E. Kastner, and Edward G. von Holst, baritones; Robert G. Reinking and Clyde Wilcoxon, bass. Calvin F. Gunn will be the accompanist.

Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

also indicated that this additional fee is disliked by the majority of educators because the fee is to be used for the buying and replacement of permanent physical education capital and not for "instructional purposes and services."

The new fee of $3 is to be used only for the buying of permanent sport equipment such as wrestling mats and the college will be denied the use of the state fund for such purchases, as is now the practice, Thompson said.

Increase Laundry Bill

"This new equipment will add $3000 a year to our laundry bill, which is already about $7000 a year," the comptroller stated.

San Jose State college for several years has supplied clothing for the women's Physical Education department.

Thompson also said that since the adoption of this policy for the Physical Education department, a possible wedge has been made for the adoption of similar policies for the other departments of the college. He also expressed his hope that the action taken so far will be rescinded before going into effect.

Glenn "Tiny" Hartranft, director of athletics, could not be reached for a statement.

The current registration fee of $8.50 was begun at the beginning of this school year and was a surprise increase of the long-standing fee of $7.00. Mr. Thompson said that changes in registration fees are rare.

WAA Announces Tourney Schedule

According to Manager Genevieve Villaseñor, starting lineups and times for tonight's WAA basketball tourney follow:

7:15-8:00 in court 1 are the Tan Tans vs. Elmwyck; court 2, Baker's Bears vs. Mary George; 8:00-8:45 in court 1 are the Turtles vs. Gumperters; in court 2, Kappa Alpha vs. YWCA Comets; 8:45-9:30 in court 1 are Cordelia Hall vs. Pratt Hall; in court 2, Presbyterian Hall vs. Rec. Majors.

FINED FOR 'DIMES' DRIVE

LYMAN, Wyo., Jan. 25 (UP)—Charged with driving without lights in broad daylight, more than 200 Wyoming motorists were "fined" $1 apiece by Lions' club judges collecting funds for the March of Dimes.

Students Get Second Chance to Air 'Gripes'

Tonight's "Town Meeting" scheduled for 7:30 o'clock in S112 of the Science building, will give students a chance to "blast" the school's health plan and use of the date book.

Student Body President Don Schaeffer seems quite optimistic about the success of the "Town Meeting" idea, and is especially hopeful of this evening's program.

"We have Miss Margaret Twombly on hand to outline the health plan," Schaeffer said, "and to tell about the advantages of the McFadden Health cottage."

After the talk by Miss Twombly, Schaeffer will lead a "gripe" session, where any and all members of the student body of San Jose State college may air opinions.

Weather

Despite yesterday's unexpected and unpredicted sunshine, the forecaster maintains his gloomy outlook and predicts today to be partly cloudy with a few scattered showers. Temperatures yesterday continued cold with a high of 47 and a low of 36. Skies were clear.

The date book session is being held primarily for the campus organizations. They sign up for dates for functions, in order not to conflict with ASB-sponsored, or other group events.

Schaeffer has sent notices to all campus organizations, asking that

Frosh to Discuss Class Constitution

The class constitution will be the subject of discussion today at 3:30 p.m. when the freshman class meets in room 116 for its weekly meeting, according to Class President Tom Arvin.

Final plans for the Pepperdine after-game dance, to be held Feb. 14, will also be included on the agenda. Following the successful "Black Catter's Ball" the class plans to continue sponsoring many more open dances and other activities, Arvin said. All members are urged to attend.

nated candidates for Congress.

BATTLE GAS PRICE

The gasoline price war was spreading throughout the bay area yesterday as the big gasoline companies authorized dealers to cut their prices "to meet competitive conditions."

Prices were lowered at stations from San Mateo through San Jose and Watsonville. Premium gas was selling at 25 cents and regular for 23 cents wherever the reductions were made.

Position Available

Any girl student who wishes to get on the Spartan Revelries board, may submit a written application in the ASB office. The position was created on recommendation of the College Life committee. The Spartan Revelries board is a student-faculty body which acts as a check on the administration, script, and production of "Spartan Revelries."

Tickets on Sale

Tickets for "Taming of the Shrew" go on sale today in the Speech office, according to Verda Jackson, Speech department secretary. Student admission is 60 cents; general admission is 90 cents.

Because of the great number of tickets on reserve and the anticipated demand, students are requested to get their tickets now. Another performance night has been added, making the play run from Feb. 2 to Feb. 8, with the exception of Sunday, Feb. 5.

Furnell Plays Petruchio And Tames the Shrew

By JIM CAPUTO

Bill Furnell plays a dual role: an actor in a play within a play, and a rough, boisterous shrew-tamer out to win the love of the fiery Katherina. All this is part of his lead role of Petruchio, a gentleman from Verona, in "Taming of The Shrew."

This Shakespeare classic of buffoonery in the Elizabethan period opens Feb. 2 in the Little Theater. It will play through Feb. 8, with the exception of Sunday, Feb. 5.

A 21-year-old Speech and Drama major from Los Gatos, tall and handsome Furnell presents an appearance on stage which feminine admirers happily term the "romantic lead" type. Whether the man-hater Katherina agrees with the fans can only be determined after the final curtain comes down.

Although Petruchio is a farce-comedy role, Furnell has alternated between comedy and dramatic roles in his two years at college. His only other Shakespearean role was that of the King of France in "King Lear". In recent roles, Bill has played Fred in the post-war comedy "John Loves Mary", and Kearney in the college's spring quarter centennial production of "Rose of The Rancho". In the Actors' Studio (formerly the Studio Theater) he has appeared in "Pomery's Past", "Ice-bound", and "The Boor."

With two years of college remaining, Little Theater audiences will see more of this talented college actor who has already performed in an unprecedented number of plays in the campus theater.

Furnell has no preference for either comedy or dramatic roles as he enjoys playing both: comedy for its opportunity to "play" with the audience; and dramatic roles for the more complex characterizations and the deeper emotional expression involved.

Just Among Ourselves

By DR. T. W. MacQUARRIE

I understand there has been some kicking about our health program. I am sorry, for we have worked hard, and against fierce opposition, to make it as good as it is. At that, it is probably the best in the state.

I don't know who is behind that criticism, but I am sure it is ill-founded, and not good sense.

Our health service is made possible largely by the Junior college. The state does not support so elaborate a program. It is not even concerned when a student is injured in class. Unless it can be shown, and probably in court, that an instructor has been negligent, or the college equipment has been faulty, the state accepts no responsibility.

The Junior college is sharply limited in funds. We cannot pay for an elaborate hospital with instant, personal, obsequious attention. We are giving a service that would warrant a far greater expenditure.

Our college health service is excellent. Devoted, skilled, professional people are doing a fine job. They deserve commendation.

I know many of you are not comfortable when not smoking, and it is tough these rainy, cold days. However, many others are uncomfortable when you are smoking, and we must compromise. Please don't smoke in the Quad nor in any building—including the temporary places across the street.

That Forum on Religion should be interesting. Dr. Thurman is a good speaker. I have heard him twice. He can fill Morris Dailey.

I see Professor Erlendson parks his car so far away now, he has to thumb a ride to get to the college.

Psychology Instructors Will Discuss Aspects, Requirements of MA Degree

Three members of the Psychology department faculty will present speeches on "The Master's Degree; Its Requirements, Application and Significance" before Psychology club members tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Student center of the First Congregational church.

The speakers, all members of the master's degree committee, are

Dr. Charles Telford, Mrs. Edith Germane and Elmo Robinson.

Telford to Speak

Dr. Telford, committee chairman, will speak on the requirements of the Master's degree candidate. Telford is a newcomer to San Jose State college, becoming a member of the Psychology department in 1948. He attended the Universities of Utah and North Dakota and later headed the Psychology departments in both institutions. Telford co-authored the book, "Twentieth Century Education", and has written numerous articles on physiology, race and attitude.

Mrs. Edith Germane, an authority on children, counseling and guidance, will discuss the function of the master's degree and its relation to counseling and guidance in employment. She attended the Universities of Iowa and Des Moines and joined the Psychology department here in 1943. Mrs. Germane co-authored the book "Silent Reading" and has written handbooks on personnel work and other related subjects.

Robinson to Discuss

"What does the Master's Degree Mean To You?" is the topic to be discussed by Elmo Robinson. Robinson, Psychology club adviser, has been with the Psychology department for many years. In the ministry for 15 years, the majority of his writings have necessarily been of a religious and ethical nature.

The master's degree committee, in addition to speakers Telford, Germane and Robinson, has five other members: Psychology department head Raymond Mosher, Dr. Brant Clark, Dr. Joseph Cooper and Dr. Arturo Fallico, and Dr. Gene Wallar.

The Psychology club meeting will be a social as well as a business affair. Entertainment Committee Chairman Janice Clausnitzen says there will be a juke box and records for dancing, and Margaret Piacenti, in charge of refreshments, promises cookies, cake, coffee, and cakes.

Ten Will Receive JC Tech Diplomas

There are ten prospective graduates in the technical courses from the junior college in March; according to Dr. H. F. Heath. Those who will receive Associate of Arts degrees are:

John D. Atkins, music; Helen E. Davis, secretarial; Marjorie J. Febbraio, merchandising; Harold D. Ferrari, drafting; Gloria Jean Jensen, secretarial; Kenneth E. Liddicoat, drafting; Oreste Joseph Piechetti, general business; Betty Helene Rich, commercial art; Catherine Louise Russell, secretarial; Joan Ruth Stillman, secretarial.

Any junior college student who expects to receive his A.A. degree in March and whose name is not listed above, is asked to get in touch with Dr. Heath's office immediately.

General Bulletin Committee To Make Recommended Cuts

San Jose State college's general bulletin is being revised in an economy and uniformity move recommended by the State College Committee on Catalogues and Announcements.

Miss Viola Palmer, registrar, said yesterday she expects the spring edition of the bulletin to be 50 pages slimmer.

Chief changes include dropping some biography information from the faculty list and setting the sample programs in double columns, instead of extending them across the page.

In addition, some clarification will be made of enrollment and graduation procedure.

The faculty list in the front of the book will contain only details of degrees held by a staff member, his rank, and date of appointment at SJSC.

Sample programs will be similar to those of liberal arts transfer schedules, in previous editions.

The committee recommending these changes is headed by Dr. Aubrey A. Douglass, chief of the division of state colleges of the state department of education.

The college publishes four bulletins a year, the general bulletin in spring, the summer school catalogue, a preliminary edition of the summer school booklet, and a special pamphlet.

This year's special edition, which comes out in April, will contain details of graduate curriculum.

'Nationalization' To Be Debated At Stanford U.

Robert Whitall and Les Groshong will take part in an Oxford style debate at Stanford university today at 4:15 p.m., taking a negative stand on the topic, "Resolved, that the United States should nationalize the basic non-agricultural industries."

Whitall is a sophomore pre-legal major. Groshong is a senior psychology major.

The subject of nationalization was chosen as the national intercollegiate debate question for 1950 following a series of suggestions and votes from more than 500 colleges and universities in the United States.

Shearing Might Appear as Guest

A progressive jazz concert featuring a 16-piece all-student band under the direction of Boyd Johnson, student Revelries music director, will be given Feb. 5 in the Civic auditorium.

Dave Bruebeck's trio and octet will also be presented, with Jimmy Lyons acting as master of ceremonies. George Shearing, outstanding pianist and widely considered one of the top four pianists in the country, has been mentioned as a possible attraction for the show.

Twenty tickets have been donated to the Polio drive in the name of Anthony (Mickey) Mendoza, according to Frank Fuller, public relations major. Ten other tickets were given out by radio station KYA in San Francisco last Saturday night over a program which featured over a million dollars in talent. Persons contributing five dollars or more received the complimentary tickets. Fuller revealed that 10 additional tickets will be given in this manner in San Jose.

Educator Speaks

Mrs. Grace Rowe of the San Jose State college Education department, is to speak on "Education Field as a Vocation", before a creative vocations group in the home of Miss Leona Crouch, 31 S. Eighth street, at 4:30 p.m. today.

The creative vocations group is an organization within the Student "Y" Personal and Campus Affairs commission.

"Though this meeting should be of special interest to majors in the field of education, the meeting is open to all interested students," Miss Crouch said.

New Scholarship Given

The offering of scholarships for orphans of World War II has been announced by the "Maud E. Warwick Fund for War Orphans" of New York city.

The scholarships have been established for the educational assistance of orphans of World War II. By the provisions of these scholarships, financial help toward higher education will be granted to orphans of World War II who, under Mrs. Warwick's will, are the only persons eligible for the fund's assistance.

The scholarships will be granted to assist studies carried on in colleges and universities, technical, professional and graduate schools, and also will be available for advanced study of music and other arts and crafts.

Young men and women made orphans by World War II, who are citizens of the United States, may apply for these scholarships. An applicant must be the son or daughter of a parent who died as a citizen of the United States while serving in the armed forces or in its merchant marine, or who otherwise died as a result of World War II.

Further information may be obtained by writing to: The Secretary, Maud E. Warwick Fund for War Orphans, Inc., Room 2315, 551 Fifth avenue, New York city.

Club to Seek New Members

The Engineers' club is conducting a three-part expansion program designed to increase membership, according to George Cashman, club publicity director. "We feel that if we can make our activities more interesting, we will have a proportional increase in membership," Cashman said.

Cashman said that the club is expanding along three lines:

1. To increase professional affiliations such as joining societies and important engineering organizations.

2. To increase the educational program to include more speakers and field trips for club members to participate in.

3. To include more social activities. These proposed activities will be in addition to the regular series of smokers, the fall barbecue, the winter banquet and dance, and the spring beer bust.

"We have 70 members now, but we ought to have 100," Cashman said. "I would like to encourage all old members to come to our meetings, and I would like to see any engineering student who is interested join our club."

There will be a special meeting of the Engineers' club this Friday at 11:30 a.m. in S 210. At this time members of the club will discuss plans for the banquet and dance to be held the latter part of February.

CCF Announces Guest Speaker

Dr. Parker Monroe will be guest speaker for the weekly meeting of the Collegiate Christian Fellowship at 12:30 p.m. today in S 31.

Dr. Monroe, Columbia university graduate, lives in the East, but is at present on a speaking tour of California.

Stan Ekstrand, president of the Collegiate Christian Fellowship club, said "Dr. Monroe is especially interested in student groups and their problems."

"He is a firm believer in the efficacy of the Christian revelation," continued Ekstrand. "Dr. Monroe will point out the ever present need for clear-cut faith in a living Christ."

Bayne-Malson Exchange Vows in San Francisco

In a candlelight, double-ring ceremony, Miss Betty Bayne became the bride of Marion Eugene Malson at All Saints Episcopal church in San Francisco.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown, fashioned with a bertha neckline of lace and a hoop skirt. Her chantilly lace veil flowed from a satin crown. White orchids and red rosebuds on a white prayer book made up her bouquet. For "something old" she wore the wedding ring of her late maternal grandmother.

Miss Margaret Hoff, niece of the bride, was maid-of-honor and the Misses Beverly Bacon, Gail Vincent, Edith James and Natalie Beiter were bridesmaids. They wore moire taffeta gowns and net hats in winter pink, deep rose, and green. On their matching taffeta muffs they held white carnations.

Lee Malson, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Roy Vincent, Emil Trausch, Jerry Slippy and Kenneth Haughton.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church reception room.

For the honeymoon trip to Yosemite, the bride wore a navy blue suit with navy and pink accessories, and a white orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Bayne of Alturas are the parents of the new Mrs. Malson. She is a junior at San Jose State college, majoring in art. She is a member of Alpha Gamma.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Roy Vincent of Redding and Mr. Marvin Malson of Sacramento. The bridegroom, who is in the navy, just returned from a seven-month cruise of the South Pacific.

Marjorie Bergen Announces Troth

Miss Marjorie Bergen recently announced her engagement to James R. Mosher of San Jose. The occasion was a birthday party given for her at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Keahney.

The bridegroom-to-be is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Raymond M. Mosher of San Jose. He was graduated from San Jose State college and attended Stanford university where he was a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Men's Club Hears United States Nationalization Debate

An audience of 50 members and guests of the Men's club of the First Methodist church Monday night heard a debate by four SJSC students on the question, "Should the United States nationalize the basic non-agricultural industries?"

Many in the audience seemed to favor less governmental control of industry, according to Mr. Wilbur F. Luick, moderator.

Taking part in the debate were Norman Elrod and John Gregory for the affirmative, with Jim Bell and Les Groshong taking a negative stand.

"Nationalization is a potential move in the right direction," Elrod claimed, "a step which will enable the individual to find the freedom and security necessary to him." He pointed out that four per cent of the people in the United States own 86 per cent of the capital assets. He argued that in a society where the wealth is in the hands of a few, the individual loses his identity, he becomes the forgotten man.

Gregory, who also took the affirmative, cited other specific examples to show that there is an economic concentration of wealth in the hands of a few persons. He contended that "through nationalization the United States could approach the economic equality which is as necessary to the individual as political equality."

He pointed out that we are facing the prospect of increasing rather than decreasing government regulation, and that nationalization is in line with this trend.

Jim Bell asserted that nationalization "just doesn't work." He pointed out New Zealand, Great Britain, and Australia as examples of countries in which the nationalization of basic industries had not produced the results which its proponents claimed for it.

"The main weakness of nationalization," he believes, "is the difficulty of planning for the whole nation without setting up an inefficient bureaucracy. The control of nationalization becomes a political football."

Les Groshong, taking the negative, believes that we can solve the problem of controlling business and industry without resorting to nationalization.

"A stricter enforcement of anti-trust laws, for example, would go a long way toward solving some of industry's basic problems," he asserted.

All ten of the member sororities of Panhellenic council at San Jose State college are national organizations.

Star Performer Leaves Spartan Boxing Squad

The San Jose State college boxing team took one on the chin yesterday when Coach Dee Portal announced that Ted Ratliff, top man in the 135-pound bracket, had decided to quit boxing.

Portal said that Ratliff was forced to drop out of the boxing picture in order to devote time to his wife, who is expecting a child.

Ratliff was scheduled to box in the meet with San Francisco City college tomorrow night, but will be replaced by Ed Martin.

A packed house is expected to watch the scheduled 20 bouts with Roy Diederichsen's men, who incidentally are expected to give the Spartans very tough competition. Portal is not using his entire group of top men in every bout to avoid the possibility of over-matching the visitors.

One of the best heavyweight matches to be seen here this season will find Jack Scheberies of San Jose going against Frank Suga, CCSF. Suga is the most dangerous man on the Ram squad and the bout promises to be a top-notch affair.

Another good battle will find Don Schaeffer, San Jose, moving up to the heavies and meeting another "Frisco" toughie, Bob Sorenson.

Portal also announced that the boxing show held in Centerville for the Youth Benefit Fund was a success. A party of 40 left by bus here Tuesday night. Following the boxing matches and entertainment a dinner was held for the participants.

SJS Harriers Receive Top Rating in Magazine

By AL GROSSI

Track and Field News Magazine in a recent issue made San Jose track coach Bud Winter's chest expand considerably when it predicted that Mel Martin, San Jose high jumper, would be one of the best in the world. This magazine, which specializes in world coverage of the track and field situation, also forecasts a bright future for the Spartan sprint relay team, who along with Stanford is expected to give the favorite, USC, quite a number of uneasy moments.

Two other holdovers help to provide a strong nucleus around which Winter expects to build his Spartan cinder squad. They are George Mattos, pole vaulter who was ranked 10th in the world by this same sheet, and speedy Bobby Crowe who doesn't need a strong wind to help him run the 100 in under 10 flat. Crowe at one time or another last year reached the tape ahead of three of the top ten sprinters in the United States, namely Don Campbell, Colo.; Bob Peters, Ind., and Paul Bienz, Tulane. Crowe is also exceptional in the 220.

The Spartan harriers will get their working duds Monday and Tuesday, and will go through their first workout on Wednesday. A sign-up will be held today and Winter urges all men who are interested in track, regardless of experience to try out for the team.

Matmen to Defend Crown at Meet

While the winners of the open tournaments are preparing for next week's competition, the remainder of Coach Ted Mumby's grapplers will be grinding through two more practice periods before they defend their Northern California Junior Wrestling championship on Saturday at the Berkeley YMCA.

Coach Mumby said yesterday that this year's wrestling team, which is carrying the San Jose colors will be a strong outfit and should be an outstanding contender for the championship post.

Joyous season greetings were handed to the grappers' coach when he learned that last year's captain, Pat Felice, will be eligible to perform on the mat for the Spartans this season.

MAT MEMOS

By SAM GOLDMAN

One collegiate sport that has been left behind in this gigantic sports movement has been wrestling. Of course, the nail in the tire has been the impression tabbed on the college mat events by the vaudeville antics of the so-called "professional wrestlers."

These "num-skulled" champs from the unknown have been saved from earning an "honest" living by their imitations of the mat game in the various local arenas.

Instead of instilling the good points that wrestling could give to the sports world, these "bullies" with their facial antics have made a great sport, a farce.

This leaves collegiate and amateur wrestling on its own, in an attempt to revive the game to the position it once had, or should have had, in the first place.

The college mat game, as performed by the San Jose State college players, and in other colleges throughout the nation, is preserving and slowly improving the sport.

This sport is a test not only of strength (like the professional comedians would have us believe), but of physical conditioning and keen mental stamina of the highest form. Like any game which claims the ideals of clean sportsmanship, individual points in wrestling determine a team victory or defeat in the end. An individual is a part of the team.

Some of these days... the NC AA wrestling committee will design a series of hand signals for wrestling referees to use. This would be a convenient and helpful method to inform the fans and scorekeepers of how a player secured his points.

Mel Patton is slow... in comparison to the speed of a Spartan Daily reporter scoring two wrestling matches at the same time. Back and forth, back and forth; on a one-way ticket to Agnew.

Perfect timing... by Larry Cunningham and Dick Campbell in pinning their opponents gave the fans a thrill during the 175-lb. matches. Larry and Dick dropped their opponents simultaneously during the El Toro-Alameda Naval Air station meets.

Memory Time... Ray Miser, referee in the El Toro matches, was the same person who captained the 1947 Spartan wrestlers. Ray tangled in the 155-lb. class for San Jose State college and is now attending Santa Clara university. By the way, Ray is still eligible for collegiate matches and is expected to represent the Bronco cause on the mat this year.

Wrestlers' roofing section... The wrestlers themselves. That's confidence of the highest possible manner. At times the wrestlers are more tired from cheering their fellow grapplers on to victory than from wrestling.

Sonny Boy... Hugh Mumby, PCI champion for the University of California Bears for the past three years is none other than the son of wrestling coach Ted Mumby.
